Sandpaper in the Kitchen.

Always keep a piece of fine sandpaper in the kitchen. If your cake or bread should brown a bit too much you can rub it off more smoothly than if a grater is used. If anything sticks or burns on pans the fine sandpaper cleans more easily than anything else.

Daily Thought.

Frugality is good, if liberality be joined with it. The first is leaving off superfluous expenses, the last bestowing them to the benefit of others that need. The first without the last begets poverty; the last without the first begets prodigality.—William Penn.

IF DARCY IS BARRED, WHY NOT SOME OF THE OTHERS?

DONT LET LES BE LONESOME.

By PAUL PURMAN.

Les Darcy, Australian middleweight champion, has been pretty generally repudiated in America. He is called a slacker.

New York and Ohio, two of the great fighting centers in the country, have refused to allow Darcy to show his wares.

Darcy is accused of running away from his duty—of sneaking out of Australia when he was needed.

Darcy has offered his alibi, but even before America went to war it didn't go down good. It now looks as though the Australian's plans of cleaning up a lot of money at the expense of American boxing fans will not get very far.

Regarding Darcy's alibi a recent article in a Sydney paper has the following to say:

"The story that has come here from across the waters that Darcy has had to go to America to box so as to be able to support his aged parents and crippled brothers and sisters, is creating a sporting laugh in Sydney. Darcy comes from hefty stock, all well and able to support themselves. Not only that, but he leaves behind him in Australia in real estate and other solid investments, about $100,000.

Recently Darcy took out his first citizenship papers, whether he did this sincerely or not makes little difference, but it does call to mind one thing—

What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.

There are other boxers in America, citizens of nations now our allies against Germany.

They are getting their money just as Darcy expected to get his, and although perhaps, they are not slackers in the same sense Darcy is, as they did not leave their countries secretly in time of war, yet the same rule should cover all.

We refer to Fred Welsh, lightweight champion of the world; Ted Lewis, English welterweight, and Baudoud, the French welterweight champion.

There are others, of course, but these are the most important.

Is there any reason why these men, who would be slackers in their own countries should be permitted to come here and annex America's money any more than Les Darcy can?

Let Welsh and Lewis and Baudoud and the rest of them become U. S. citizens if they want to stay here. Let them show a little patriotism if they expect to be patronized.

and the typhoid serum injection are forgotten entirely when the bugle sounds mess, the only call the recruits know thus far. The boys of Company A, Clarkburg, and Company G, of Littleton, located opposite each other on the plot laid out for the first battalion have become chummy and there seem to be deep laid plans for these two companies to try their ammunition on the other companies located over on Muddy Hill. Those across the way though are pretty well supplied with forces. Grafton, Company E located nearest the gate to the Hughes farm, has a company which is said to be the largest in the regiment. This company, assisted by the boys from Martinsburg, and the bunch from Fairmont are well able to take care of themselves, and besides they have the advantage of having the headquarters tent just ahead of them.

There is great friendly rivalry among the several companies at the camp. They each claim to have the best company and they are willing to prove it. Drills and hikes will test the men as soon as walking gets good around camp and then the better companies can be picked by their work. Should the weather permit hikes will begin tomorrow or next day. Equipment for the men is coming in as fast as it can be handled. Books teaching warfare, drills and signal codes, etc., have been received. Manuals on court martial have been added to the property list of Lieutenant Colonel Robert Osborn. This makes his kit complete lacking a checker board. Captain John W. Mason, Jr., was in uniform yesterday and visited the camp doing some work for the state adjutant general's office. Though Captain Mason is unassigned at present it is quite possible that he will leave Fairmont with the regiment under orders.

Several men from the ranks have been dismissed due to physical disability. Others will be recruited shortly to fill their places and to bring the regiment up to war strength, which is 2,002 men and 50 officers. No instructions have been received concerning the recruiting yet but arrangements have been made to receive enough men to bring the number to maximum. Those in the ranks are greatly pleased with the universal training bill as outlined in the newspapers yesterday. They are anxious to see all young men forced to join the army so that the married men and those having dependents can stay at home doing other work for the army than trench fighting. They all eagerly await news from Washington on the bill and at the same time keep an ear cocked for news from the fleet.

Means Open Courtyard.

The word "manger" occurs only in connection with the birth of Christ and is in the second chapter of Luke. The word in classical Greek means a crib or feeding trough. Modern authorities hold that its significance in the New Testament is the open courtyard of an inn or khan.
